VOTERS GUIDE

November 8, 2016
General Election
Collin County Offices

Early voting: October 24 – November 4

Election Day Polls: November 8 – 7 am to 7 pm

About this Voters Guide

This Voters Guide is published by the League of Women Voters of Collin County to help citizens prepare to cast an informed vote. The League of Women Voters encourages informed and active participation in government. The League does not support or oppose any political party or candidate.

This guide is available online at www.lwvcollin.org, along with guides for other offices that include all or part of Collin County.

Candidate responses for all races are also available at www.VOTE411.org, where you can enter an address and view a personalized ballot with races specific to that address.

Questionnaires were sent to all candidates for each office, whether or not the race is contested. Candidate replies were subject to a character limit and are printed without editing or verification. If a candidate did not respond by the deadline, "No response received" is printed. Candidates were asked to avoid references to their opponents. Photos are included for candidates who provided them.

This Voters Guide is organized by office sought, with candidates listed in alphabetical order, regardless of their political party.

QUESTION - UNCONTESTED

Even though your race is not contested at this time, please share with voters your priorities for the next term and how you will address them.

Balance: What is your view on balancing mercy and justice?

Impartiality: How do you maintain impartiality, given the necessity of raising funds for political campaigns?

Other Issues: What other issues do you believe will be most pressing in the District Courts, and how would you address them?

QUESTIONS - CONTESTED

Growth: What challenges will the continuing growth of the county present to the district courts, and how would you address them?

Access to Justice: What, if anything, should be done to improve access to justice for low income residents in civil and criminal cases?

Education: -New York University School of Law, LL.M. (2013) -Oklahoma City University School of Law, J.D. (2011) -University of California, Los Angeles, B.A. (2007)
Experience: I have primarily practiced in civil litigation since 2011. I have handled criminal cases and hold academic accolades in Criminal Procedure and Jurisprudence. I also teach Federal Government and Texas Government at Tarrant County College.

Growth: No response received.

Access to Justice: Among the many principles of justice to which I subscribe, the principle that social and economic inequalities must inure to the benefit of the least well-off is one. Access to justice involves not only committing funds to enable the less well off and marginalized groups and persons to secure some representation, but it also involves educational efforts. I intend to create symposia covering various legal subjects, open to the public, with a primary effort to involve low-income residents.

Balance: Mercy should inform a judge's understanding of justice. If judicial action is viewed as merciful rather than just, the rule of law is undermined. For example, to call merciful a judge's decision to impose a lesser punishment or penalty when a larger one is available renders mercy arbitrary. Relatedly, if to take the merciful route would appear the right thing under the circumstances, then arguably it would be unjust not to take that route. To lend transparency to what judges do, it is important clearly to articulate what justice requires and consistently to act in accord with just principles.

Impartiality: As a United States Army veteran, I am accustomed to living up to the oaths I take. I took an oath to conduct myself with integrity in the practice of law. I take this oath serious as I have great respect for law. Through law we are able to achieve our greatest cooperative ventures and foster trust and civility between each other. Impartial judges are necessary to maintain this trust and civility. To ensure I am conducting myself accordingly, I plan to conduct quarterly open meetings for the general public to discuss how the courts are working and how they can improve.

Other Issues: There are three issues: transparency, consistent application of law, and accessibility to the general public. I will hold open meetings for the general public. I will create an online database with reasoned opinions for every dispositive or substantive motion or plea so lawyers and the general public can plan their cases, and ensure I am consistent. I will employ every effort to involve minority and marginalized groups in jury pools, and hold open symposiums for the general public to learn different areas of the law, because people must understand law to be governed by it.

Website/Facebook/YouTube:
www.Andrea4Texas.com
www.facebook.com/Andrea4Texas

Education: I attended Plano Senior High School, then received a BS from Texas A&M University before receiving my JD from South Texas College of Law in Houston.

Experience: I served as Collin County District Clerk from December 2011 - December 2015. Prior to that I was an attorney practicing in the area of family law with my own law firm from 2003 - 2011 when the District Judges asked me to serve as District Clerk.

Growth: The growth in the county will continue to strain our judicial resources and effective courtroom management will be key. Family law cases are more than 50% of the cases filed in Collin County and growing. There are twice as many family law cases filed as criminal and almost twice as many family law as civil cases. With my family law background I would be able to immediately take a larger percentage of family law cases, have no learning curve and therefore more quickly help residents receive the relief they need from the court.

Access to Justice: Improving access to justice is our duty and it improves court efficiency. As an attorney, I provided hundreds of hours of free & discounted services to clients. I am currently a member of the Texas Guide & File team working to develop and provide free online forms for legal filings. This program will walk self represented litigants through legal forms and then electronically file them with the court. Judges are leaders and as a judge I can encourage broader access to out of court settlement options in civil matters and encourage attorneys to accept more pro cases in all practice areas.

Balance: My family law clients often faced behavior by the other spouse that was devastating to their family. In discussing their choices in how to respond, we discussed whether the action was morally wrong or illegal. Infidelity is immoral, it isn't illegal. The injured spouse may feel angry, but retribution may not be best for the children. Mercy and justice sit in a similar balance. Our laws demand justice, which is decided by a finding of guilt or fault. Yet mercy may be served by the length of a sentence or the amount of a judgment based on weighing the specific facts of a case.

Impartiality: Unfortunately in Texas we elect our judiciary and campaigns cost money, but there are voluntary limits to contributions which I have chosen to accept so that no 1 special interest group or law firm may contribute enough to decide the outcome of my election or give the appearance of impropriety. In fact, my campaign is mostly funded by my friends and family, with the smallest percentage of donors, by far, being attorneys.

Other Issues: In Collin County, two family law cases are filed for every criminal or civil case and the number of family law cases is growing at twice the rate of civil or criminal cases. Few of us know someone affected by violent crime, but we all know someone affected by a family law matter. We need judges who understand the complexities and both sides of cases involving family violence, child support obligations, divorce, adoption and CPS. I have dedicated my career to these complex problems and finding solutions that preserve families and their finances. We have a need—my experience is the solution

Experience: Emily Miskel practiced family law at a firm in Plano before being appointed to the 470th district court by Gov. Abbott. She is board certified in family law by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization.

Uncontested: A family court case can be the most difficult time of a person's life. I always want to treat litigants fairly and with dignity, compassion, and respect. My priorities are to set cases quickly, to reach cases when they are set, to maximize efficiency with the court's time, and to try to reduce cost for the people appearing in my court. I resolve to treat all parties and lawyers the same, even when they represent themselves, and to minimize unnecessary roadblocks to court access. I want my court to uphold the Constitution and our American values for our justice system.

Experience: 25-year law enforcement veteran (Patrol, SWAT, Narcotics, Homicide, White-Collar fraud); former 2nd Assistant District Attorney/Chief of Special Prosecutions Division, Collin County DA's Office; and Special Prosecutor (public corruption matter).

Procedures: The new Sheriff's challenge will be to lead the Office into the future with an eye towards exceeding the level of service that our citizens deserve and have come to expect. Leadership that provides planning for growth in the jail, for increasing the professional development of deputies and detention officers, and that ensures quality education and training for all employees, is essential to the safety and well being of our citizens. Additionally, close coordination between our DA, the Courts, probation officials and the jail, will be essential to ensure overcrowding of the jail does not occur.

Growth: The explosive growth that we continue to experience will cause a strain on law enforcement staffing as calls for service increase. Work being done throughout the County on our transportation infrastructure may result in deputies handling an increased volume of calls as road construction causes unexpected problems, i.e. road hazards, traffic congestion, breakdowns, and accidents. Also, maintaining the standards of detention officers and staff, while providing for the safety and well being of 900+ inmates in the county jail will be among our most pressing issues as we look ahead to the future.

Safety: I support the use of intelligence-led policing (ILP), which effectively reduces crime. ILP collects and analyzes data and conditions that contribute to crime, resulting in products that aid law enforcement (LE) in developing strategic planning and tactical responses to counter current or emerging crime threats. ILP is used as a tool for information sharing both within LE agencies and between private/public sector stakeholders and the intelligence community. ILP aids LE agencies in identifying threats and developing enforcement strategies to prevent those crime threats from reaching fruition.

Trust: Full transparency and an Open-Door policy are two integral components that must exist in order for law enforcement leaders to build and then maintain the trust of the citizens they serve. Equally important is to correct misinformation or false narratives that are perpetuated in any form of media. Law enforcement officials owe it to the public they serve to ensure in a straightforward and direct manner that facts concerning any particular law enforcement related incident or matter are reported accurately. Law enforcement should use various forms of social media to keep the public informed.

Other Issues: Unfortunately, drug use, burglaries and theft will continue to be a problem. With enforcement efforts aimed at curbing the raging Rx drug epidemic, addicts have turned to heroin as a substitute for the prescription painkillers they now cannot acquire. With increased use of heroin, overdoses and deaths will increase, and property losses will rise as people turn to crime to support their drug habit. As Sheriff, I will work with other stakeholders from every community to coordinate efforts at education, treatment and enforcement designed to help reduce the use of narcotics and dangerous drugs.

Experience: Worked in the legal field for several years with emphasis on foreclosure processes in 12 states, truancy mentor, volunteers at the Legal Aid clinic in Plano and Allen with assisting the public with pro bono legal aid counseling. Member of Kiwanis.

Procedures: Mandatory electronic filing has been launch in most courtrooms; however the JP3-1 courtroom does not have E-filing established as of yet. E-filing is important because documents are electronically filed and stored properly which give faster accessibility. By eliminating mailing, handling, and keying in returns, the E-filing process will yield a cost savings as a result of the reduction of duplicated manual processing. Court employees should be given raises according to their 0% error job performances. Diversity training should be recommended for all Justices due to changing demographics.

Poverty/Homelessness: We are past moral decay when it comes to the issue of homelessness. The Justice of the Peace Courts can become more involved in eviction cases which creates a potential homelessness population. The JP courtroom can establish a collaborative pilot program design to assist landlords and tenants in resolving back rent situations without receiving a credit damaging judgment. I am seeking to create an Eviction Diversion program in Collin County by collaborating with community agencies who will assist to fund this program and start this initiative.

Accessibility: The majority of people in Collin County works a 9 to 5 job and often find it difficult to get away from work without facing a write up or perhaps utilizing their vacation hours to handle their personal obligations. The JP Courts are "The People's Court" and the courts should be more accessible to "The People". The measures I support to make the JP Courts more accessible are to hold night court, once a month, every other month while having all the Justice of the Peace Judges rotate this responsibility. This will give "The People" greater accessibility to the court system.

Other Issues: I believe that as more eviction cases are being heard there will be an influx in truancy cases. As a previous truancy mentor, I am very familiar with the conditions that may cause a child to end up in truancy court. As Justice of the Peace Judge, I will push for more parent and student engagement. I would recommend more mentoring programs into the school system. I realize a Judge's words can have a profound effect on our youth. I will make sure the words I speak are of wisdom, honesty, and encouragement to our children.

Procedures: Justice Court is still a paper system in an electronic world. It is imperative that we move these courts into the 21 century. We will always need to allow paper filings, reports, and evidence but our Court can be much more efficient by using technologies and software that are available.

Poverty/Homelessness: Most of our eviction cases are due to non-payment of rent. Often this occurs because the occupants have fallen on hard economic times due largely to loss of employment, illness, or divorce. After eviction, many of these people become homeless. Churches and non-profit organizations could become more proactive in helping in the short term preventing some of the homelessness.

Accessibility: Education is the key to accessibility. Many citizens do not know what the Justice of the Peace even does other than marriages. It is the "People's Court" because an average citizen can plead their case at a very low cost and seek "justice" for any dispute as long as the amount in question is $10,000 or less. There are also a number of other services that are available. Some of these include mental warrants, occupational driver's license, hot checks, and truancy. Justice Courts hear all criminal cases that are fine only. We need to increase access to technology and simplify the filing process.

Other Issues: Staff and staff pay – All Collin County justice Courts have small, efficient staffs. These staff members are expected to know the law, work with citizens, Courts, lawyers, law enforcement, DA's, and numerous others all without making any mistakes. Yet, they are paid as an entry-level position. If the clerks were fairly compensated, there would be less employee turnover. Turnover is not only expensive and time consuming, it is frustrating for the citizens. Court Security – Justice Court security is lacking and must be improved.
